

SAND

BY ROBERT DREWE AND JOHN KINSELLA

‘Readers who enjoyed Drewe’s The Shark Net will find some delightful new pieces to enjoy here too ... and [Kinsella’s] evocative, often autobiographical poems complement Drewe’s pieces neatly ... excellent summer beach reading ...’

— Bookseller+Publisher

ABOUT THE BOOK

Renowned author, Robert Drewe, teams up with internationally acclaimed poet, John Kinsella, to explore a common preoccupation with sand. Digging into its shifting foundations, the authors use stories and recollections from their own lives to explore the importance of sand to culture and psychology.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Robert Drewe is the author of six novels, four collections of short stories, and two works of non-fiction. He has edited five collections of short stories and prose. His novels and short stories and his prize-winning memoir, The Shark Net, have been widely translated, won many national and international awards, and been adapted for film, television, radio and theatre around the world.

John Kinsella has published more than thirty prize winning volumes of poetry and prose. His work is translated into many languages, including French, German, Chinese, Dutch, Spanish and Russian.
