

Koala had a question.

She asked her friends,
'What colour
is the sea?'

Kangaroo scratched his nose with one front claw.

'The sea is green,' he said,
'like a fern leaf.'

Wombat shuffled up close.

‘No, no, the sea is blue,
like a fairy-wren.’

Echidna shook her spikes.

‘You’re both wrong,’
she said.

‘The sea is as black as the night sky.’

Emu stalked up and put his head down low.

‘Wrong!’

he boomed. ‘All wrong. The sea is gold, like the sun.’
